« The bench is an impromptu lasting around fifteen minutes which can be played in a park, on a square, in the middle of nature.

It's a show without words. A story of movements, of eyes that meet. Hands that seek each other, brush against each other and end up meeting. Of bodies that seek and end up finding.

It is also part, in a shorter form, of a strolling show created in May 2023: Les Absents. »
